Not illustrated. 1796 Excerpt: .against the divine command, were immediately slain to the number of seventy, which so terrified the rest, that they sent to the people of Kirjath-jearim, acquainting them that the Philistines had brought back the ark, and desiring them to come and fetch it; which accordingly they did, and placed it in the house of one Abinadab, (whose son was consecrated to keep it, ) and there it continued for the space of twenty years. S-muti- Upon the death of Eli, Samuel succeeded to the government; and having called the people together, very properly his sons badly mistrisiois. c was no kat policy in the Philistines to take milch kine, that had never been yoked before, to draw the cart, in order to know whether there was the hand of God in what had befallen them. As these creatures were unacquainted with the yoke, it would be a wonder if they should go jointly together, and not thwart and draw counter to each other j it would be a wonder if their natural affection would not incline them to return to their calves, which were left behind; and it would still be a greater wonder, if, when there were so many different ways to take, they should go directly forward to Judea without any manner of deviation. It was therefore a matter of no small sagacity for them to make this experiment: To lay nothing, that it was a received opinion among the Heathens, that...
